the water of the well at the Statehouse had been analyzed and pronounced impure led many persons to wonder if there is dianapolis. A Journal reporter consulted Mr. Charles Krauss, an authority on the subject, and learned that there is plenty deep driven wells. Mr. Krauss says the only assurance of absolutely pure well water is by going far into the limestone rock which is a hundred feet below the surface. This rock formation underlies the whole city and found at a uniform depth. To reach it the drill has to pass through the soil, gravel and clay formations which lie above. The Imestone is porous and supplies water somewhat as Trenton rock does oil. Its water supply is inexhaustible and pure beyond the possibility of contamination. Among the driven wells that have been into the limestone are that at the oldiers' Monument, 260 feet deep; at the English Hotel, 330 feet; at the Newton Claypool building, 200 feet; at the Majestic building, 230 feet; at the Century building, 260 feet; the courthouse well, 360 feet; the Columbia Club, 396 feet; the When Store, 396 feet; the Manual Training School, 300 feet; the City Library, 300 feet. Of about the same depth are wells at the institutions for the blind, the deaf and dumb and the Insane Hospital, at St. Vincent's Hospital, at the Blacherne, at Eli Lilly & Co.'s and others. INDIANA'S FAIR BUILDING.

Contractors Say Work Will Begin in About Ten Days.

The contract for the construction of the Indiana building at the St. Louis exposition, which was let to Drake & Caldwell, of Columbus, several days ago, was formally signed yesterday morning by Lester Drake. The contract calls for $31,343, of which 85 per cent, is to be paid in installments as the building progresses, and the remaining 15 completed and accepted. Mr. Drake said that work would be begun on the building n about ten days. However, there is a great deal of red tape connected with the beginning in the securing of permits, the surveying of sites, etc., and consequently it may be several weeks before the building is be-

RELIABILITY IRISH AND LADY DAY

FIRST LOCAL CELEBRATION HELD AT THE FAIR GROUNDS.

Several Thousand Sons and Daughters of the Emerald Isle Enjoy an Interesting Programme.

LOTS OF FUN IN THE RACES

CONTEST FOR WOMEN FURNISHED EVENT OF THE DAY.

Pacing and Trotting Events Hotly Contested-List of Events and Prize Winners.

"Lady day" was appropriately celebrated yesterday at the fair grounds by Irishmen of this city and from the small hamlets in the country. The celebration was under the auspices of the Ancient Order of Hibernians of Marion county. It was in celebration of the annual harvest day that is held in Ireland at the close of each harvest. It is known as "Lady day," the day given over to general rejoicing by the men of Ireland, who give most of their time entertaining the women in token of appreciation for their help through the harvest time.

Yesterday's celebration was the first event of its kind undertaken by the local Irishmen. The programme began at 2 o'clock and was varied. Several thousand Irishmen and women took advantage of the occasion and journeyed to the fair grounds. The threatening weather in the early part of the afternoon deterred many from participating the Girls' Industrial School by Judge in the festivities. When the first number was given the large crowd swarmed into the grandstand and about the racetrack. The first number as a race by small boys in which there were twenty-two entries. The race was for one hundred yards for which a football was given as prize. Raymond Cantwell proved winner over the big field and made the distance in :1114

INTEREST IN THE EVENTS. The greatest interest was shown in the trotting and pacing events. Mike Reardon, the well-known horseman, acted as manager and starter for the race events. He was assisted by Wes Stout and Theo Brown. Some little delay was occasioned in getting DEATH Woodard, The Optician the horses from the barn. While the wait was being indulged in a free-for-all among the men for one hundred yards was given. This event was to have been a race for fat men, but was changed at the last minute. Thomas Brady was the winner, making the time in twelve seconds.

A race that proved full of fun was run by the women attending the celebration. John J. Blackwell acted as starter for the field of eight entries. Among them was a woman weighing 285 pounds. The first race was a dead heat and the contest had to be run again. The corpulent woman ran about twenty-five yards, when she had to retire. The race was a tie between Miss O'Toole and Mary Patterson, of Terre Haute. When the race was run for the second time Mrs. Mary Dillon, of this city, who also carried much weight, entered. At the word "go" she led the other two young women several feet, but the hard turf of the track tripped her and she fell very hard, tearing her waist and skirt. The other two girls continued the race, which was won by Miss Margaret O'Toole, of this city, with Miss Patterson, of Terre Haute, second. The prize was an opera fan. The sight of the race horses jogging down the track caused the big crowd to hurry to the fence, where each person could get a good view. In the three-minute trot there were six entries, but only two horses went to the post. Peter W. Delaney's Wild Dick won the first two heats and the race. His opponent was Miss Allright, owned and driven by Jacob Wiles.

SOME GOOD RACING. Some good racing was witnessed in the three-minute pace, in which there were eight entries and four starters. This race proved so exciting at the close, when Drivers Maurice Donnelly and Benjamin Sanders were tied for second place, that an extra heat was raced by their two horses. Donnelly, who carries more weight than most drivers, was obliged to retire from the sulky at the end of the second heat and allow Wes Stout to drive his horse in the match race. This event was one that excited a great amount of interest. Sanders took the pole, but his horse broke as it turned into the back stretch. Donnelly's Kitty Flynn began to make a large opening between her and Fred S., driven by Sanders. The latter, however, regained his feet near the half mile and cut down much of the gap taken by Kitty Flynn. The lat-ter, on turning into the home stretch, lost her feet, and when the horses beat for home both were neck and neck and pacing in fast time. It was a pretty race until the wire was reached, and Fred S., by pushing his others, it being made in 2:30.

The results of the other races follow: Charles McDowell's Frank M., b. g. Theo. Brown's Goldie, s. m. (Acher).....1 Maurice Donnelly's Kitty Flynn, b. g.

HARRIET STOTT LABORED HARD TO PAY FAMILY DEBTS.

Successful in Her Endeavor, She Le Bequest of $500 to the Holy Innocents Church.

A sad story of a woman struggling to pay off many debts incurred by her hard-working husband during his life was revealed in the death of Mrs. Harriet Stott, whose funeral will be held to-morrow from Whitsett & Culver's chapel on North Meridian street. Mrs. Stott was the widow of Thomas Stott, who was at one time in partnership with Mr. Goddard in the stone business at Kentucky avenue and Missouri street.

Mr. and Mrs. Stott arrived in this country from England twenty-five years ago. It was a hard struggle for Mr. Stott to attain his ambition of owning his own home. Finally he secured enough money to purchase a small lot at 839 English avenue. Later Mr. Stott made some money out of the stone business in company with Mr. Goddard and erected a house. Mr. Stott died a few years ago, leaving some indebtedness on his home. His wife was an indefatigable worker and determined that she would pay off the indebtedness caused by her husband. She kept a boarding house, and to replenish her table with the delicacies of the market often walked to save carfare from the East Market back to her home or the South Side carrying a large basket of

About one year ago Mrs. Stott became il from her arduous work. Her illness continued until death came to her relief Friday While she lay ill the Rev. Francis Wood ward, of Holy Innocents' Church, and Judge Daniel Wait Howe looked after the wants of the stricken woman. In a will made some time ago Mrs. Stott left $500 to Holy Innocents' Church. Another amount was left aside for some relatives in England. She left no children.

SLOAN DRUG COMPANY ENDS CAREER OF FIFTY-FIVE YEARS.

Denison House Store Is Sold to Cyrus A. Smith-History of Firm's Career.

With the sale of the Sloan Drug Company's store in the Denison Hotel building on North Pennsylvania street there passes out of existence the oldest retail drug company in Indiana and one of the oldest retail drug houses in the West.

The company sold the Denison House store yesterday to Cyrus A. Smith and will retire from business. George B. Sloan, son of the late George W. Sloan, will establish in Indianapolis a manufactory of pharmaceutical specialties. George B. Sloan succeeded his father as head of the company. The history of the Sloan retail drug house covers fifty-five years of the history of the growth and development of Indianapolis. George W. Sloan, a pharmacist of national reputation, who died last February, was in in the office looked through the records the drug business on Washington street, between Meridian and Illinois streets, for son was dead, she said, from the fact that lifty-five years. > In 1886 the firm met financial reverses, but George W. Sloan had many friends among the most successful business men of the city and he was given financial assistance. He then organized the Sloan Drug Company, which has always been one of the most successful retail concerns of the city. When the Sloan drug house was established Indianapolis was a small city of only 10,000 inhabitants, and there were but four retail drug stores in the city. George W. Sloan had a national reputation as a pharmacist and his formulas for the manufacture of medicine, and especially tinctures, have been used in the United States Dis-pensatory, and the Sloan Drug Company was known all over the country.

REARDON OFF MARION BOARD

HIS RESIGNATION WAS PLEASING TO GOVERNOR, IT IS SAID.

Action May Be Taken as an Indication of What Will Follow if Rottenness Is Allowed.

The change in the Metropolitan Police Board of Marion, forecasted in yesterday's Journal, was effected yesterday afternoon. The announcement was made at the Governor's office that D. C. Reardon's resignation had been accepted and that Mark Swayzee, a prominent merchant of Marion had been named as his successor. It is intimated that Mr. Reardon did not retire voluntarily, but that he was informed some days since that Governor Durbin would be pleased to accept his resignation. Secretary Lockwood, as the representative of the Governor, declined to discuss the matter last evening, further than to announce the change. The change was made, it is understood, because the board has been permitting Marion to be run on the "wide-open" plan, and Mr. Reardon has been regarded as the controlling or dominating member of the board. There is no intimation that W. W. McCleery, the other Republican member, or A. E. Gibson, Democrat, will be disturbed. Mr. Swayzee, the new member, is pecial to the Indianapolis Journal. MARION, Ind., Aug. 15 .- Lindsey Addington, superintendent of the Marion police department, handed in his resignation to the police department, to take effect immediately. Mr. Addington says his reason for resigning was the continual agitation and faultfinding by an element that had been hounding him for some time. He became superintendent of police April 1, 1901, serving two years and five months. W. W. McCleery, president of the police board, states that Captain Bert White will be placed in charge of the department until the board is organized, when a successor will be named. Marion citizens favor Captain White's appointment as permanent superintendent of police. The appointment of Mark L. Swayzee to succeed D. C. Reardon, resigned, as a member of the board,
